A few of the recently discovered TVA photos from the Atlanta National Archive Kodak negative collection

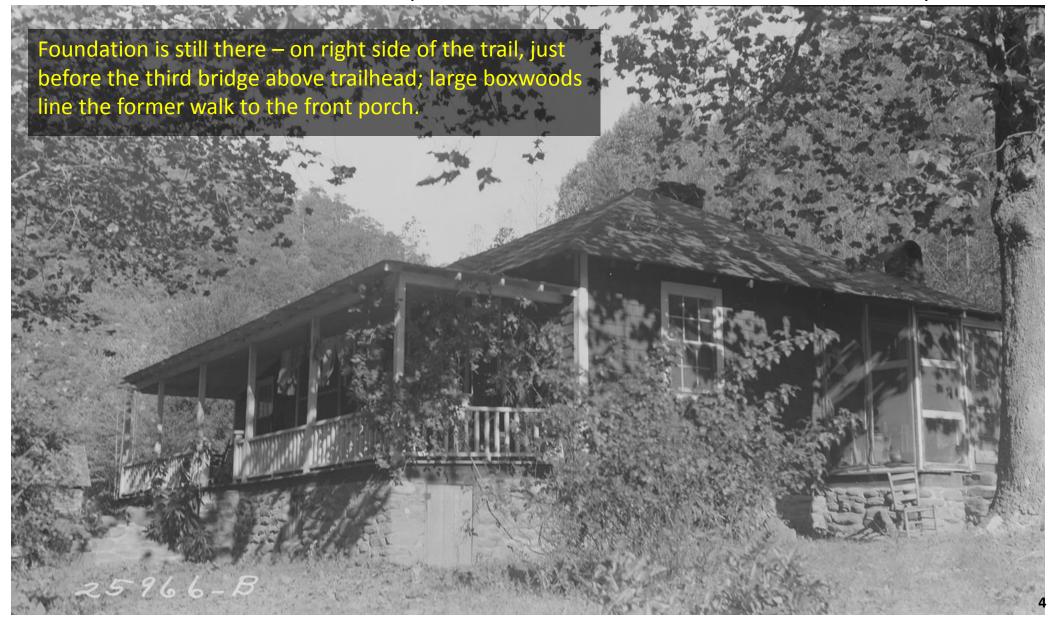

Friends of the Bryson City Cemetery
Don Casada
November 2019

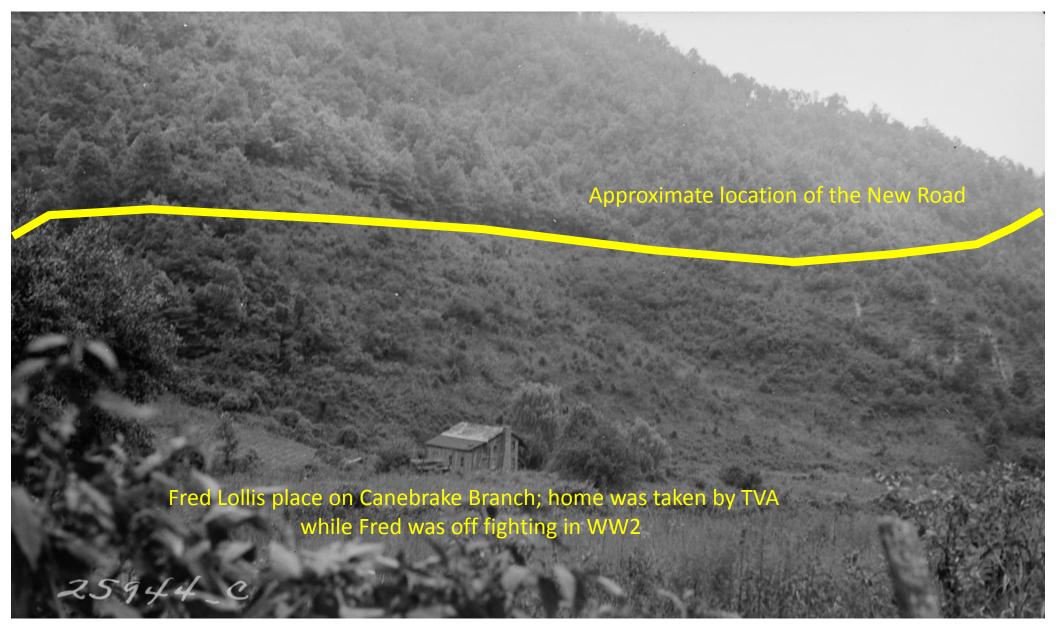

Note: Except for Fred Lollis home on Canebrake, all of the places mentioned here were lived in by individuals who are buried in the Bryson City Cemetery, including S.R. Patterson, Jr, several members of the Enloe family, and Dessie Cunningham Coffey.

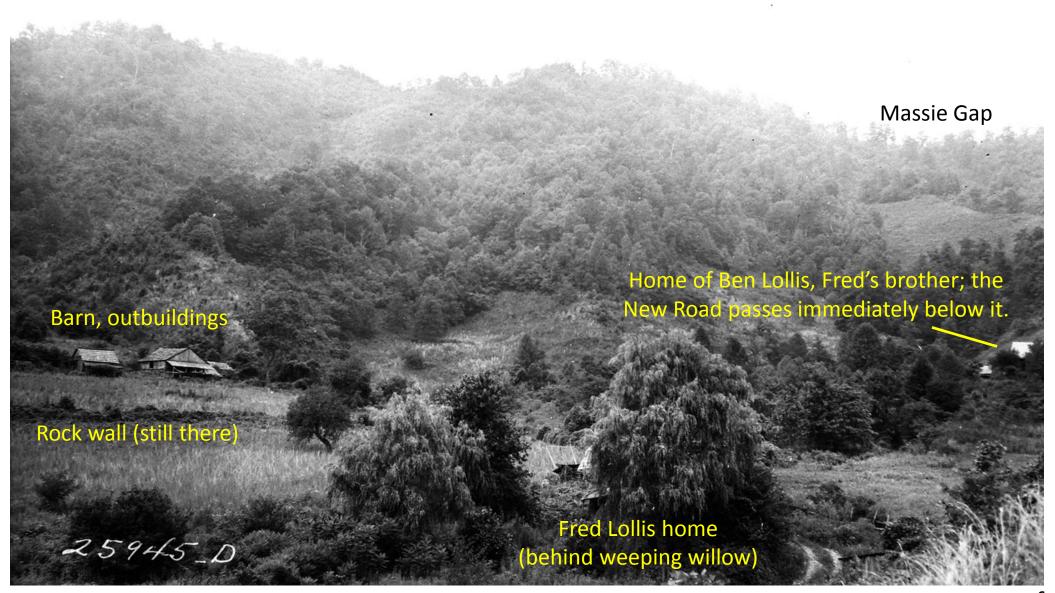

Patterson place on Noland Creek, built by Sheriff S.R. Patterson; Cole Hyatt family lived here when he worked as a warden for Philip Rust. S.R. Patterson, Jr is buried in the BC Cemetery

Fred Lollis places on Canebrake Branch

Fred's chimney is still standing and his daffodils are still blooming

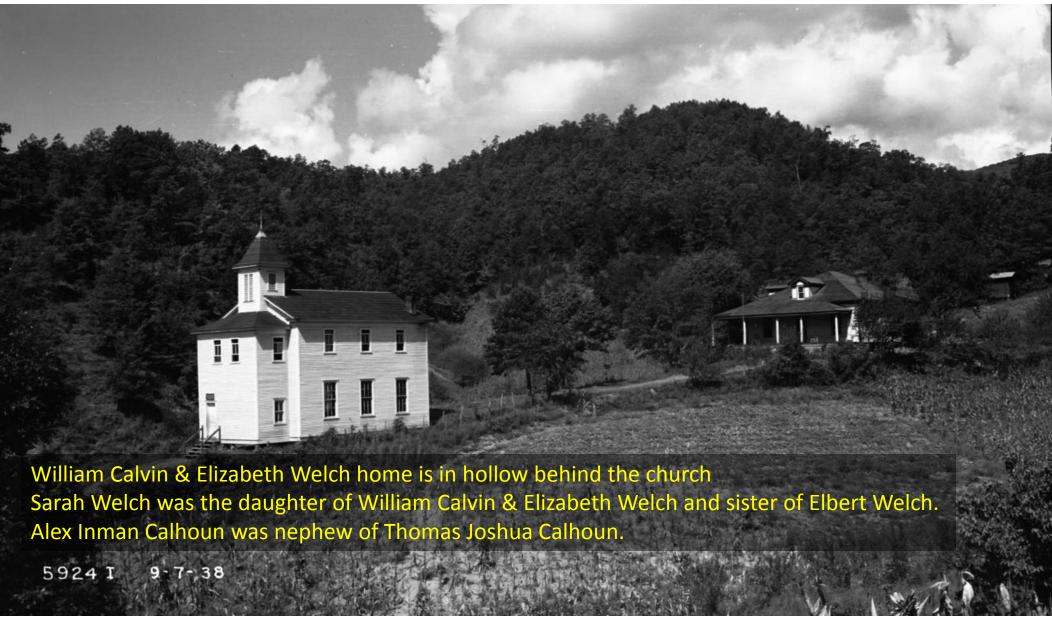

Mill house at the William Calvin & Elizabeth Welch place Electrical insulator

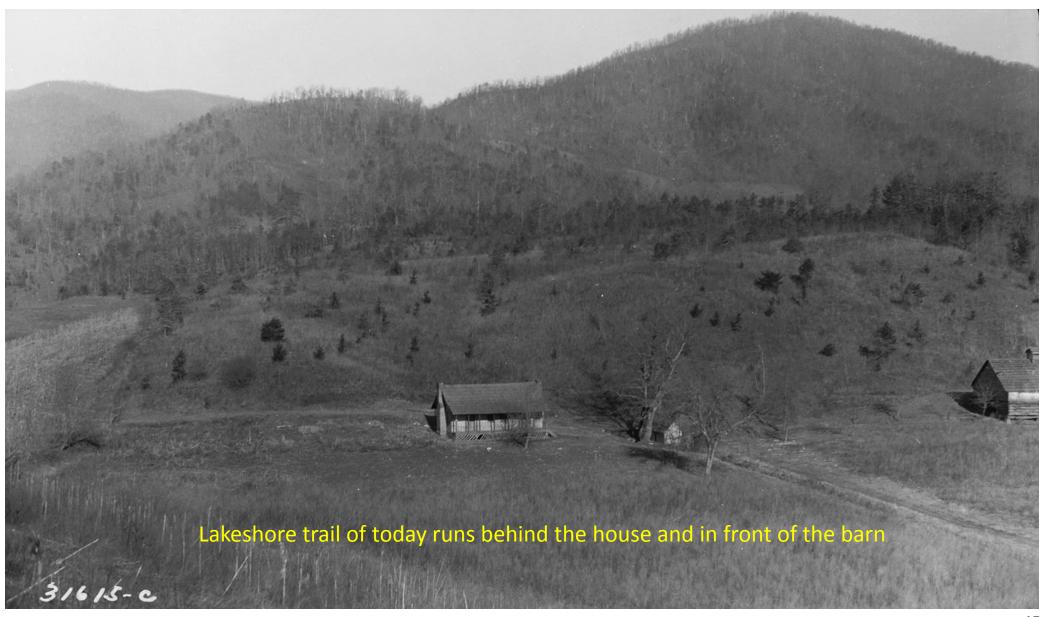

Two car garage at the William Calvin & Elizabeth Welch place

Bushnell Baptist Church and Alex Inman & Sarah Welch Calhoun home

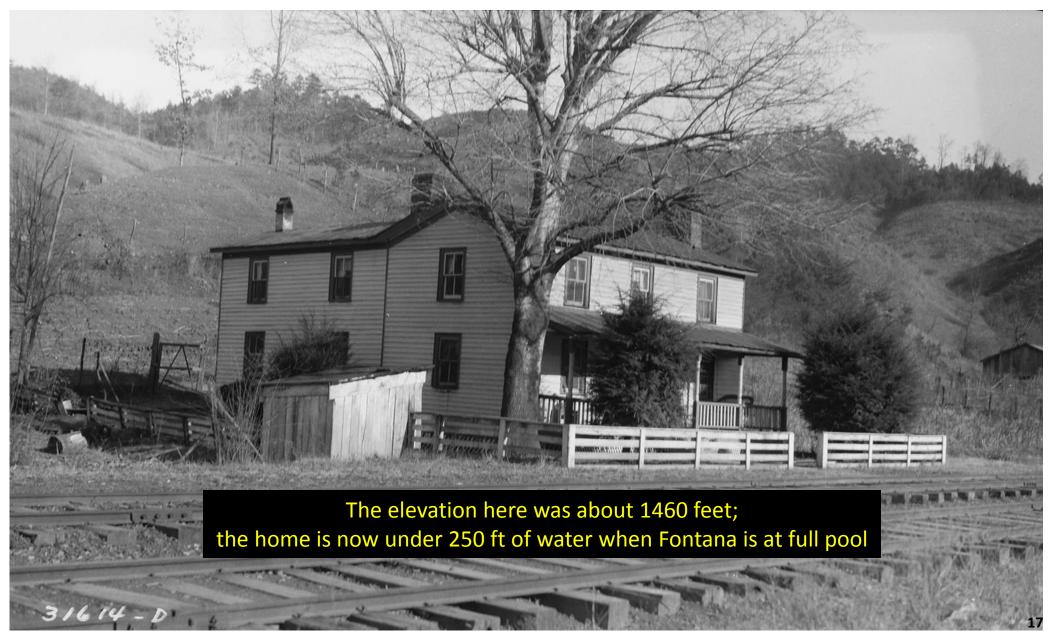

163 acre home place owned by Columbus Welch, occupied by Bill Morgan

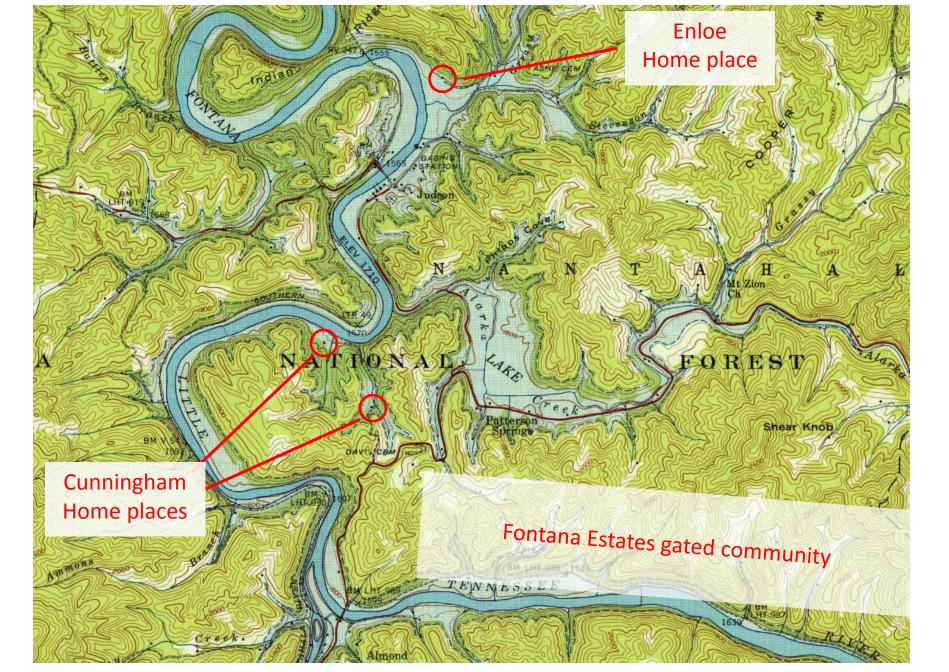

Welch home along the railroad tracks; the Welches* had sold it to NP&L but still lived here. JC and Columbus were sons of Dr. J.E.T. and Elisabeth Gunter Welch, who are buried in the BC Cemetery along with several of their children and their children's cousins.

* JC, Columbus Welch, Betty Southards and Vivian Muse Macon lived here

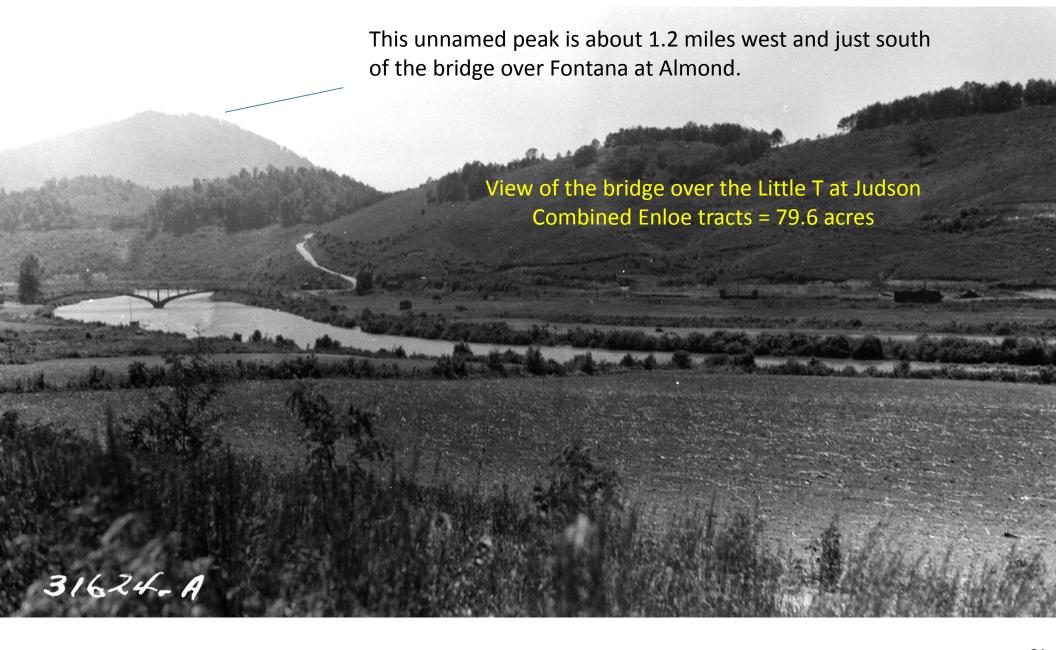

Another view of the Welch home along the railroad tracks

Declaration of taking value: $8500 Final decree: $10,850 (28% more)

The 4365 acre Rust tract on Noland Creek covered most of the land from below the viaduct to the Park line, more than five miles up Noland Creek from the trailhead. Had the Great Smoky Mountains National Park not been created, this would likely be the circumstances of much of the area land.

